Happy New Year! I hope everyone had a great holiday and that you were able to spend some time with your families.

As I look back on what the club accomplished in 2017, I am proud of what we did. We were able to grow our membership, we had a very successful Cranberry Festival and ended the year with a wonderful Christmas party.

Last year our goal as a club was involvement. I think we accomplished this goal. We gained many new members who are active and we had lots of existing members help out with things as it was needed. That said, we are always looking for help in different ways. We are currently in search of someone to coordinate our membership. The job is what you make of it. Mainly it involves getting members to pay their dues, ensure our guests are welcome and encourage them to join.

I think the big thing on our plate this year will be that we may be looking for a new place to meet. The Coos Bay Schools bond measure passed in November. Part of the bond measure is to re-do the Harding School. Even if they save the room we are meeting in, we will likely be displaced for a period of time. I have been in contact with the school's facilities secretary. She will let me know our status as soon as they can. If you know of a place that can accommodate our group and has storage for our tools, equipment and wood please let one of the board members know. We are open to all options and suggestions. The more prepared we can be the better off it will be in the end.

See you Saturday!

Steve's Program Notes

2018 Program Schedule (so far):

January - Lamp Turning by Randy Knapp

February - Finials - Video presentation

March - Bird Houses by Ike Launstein

April - Pierced Turnings by Terry Rice

We need more members to step forward and be a presenter/demonstrator. It doesn't have to be fancy or complicated, just something you have found interesting and are willing to share. Please see Steve Adams or any other club officer.

It's not too early to start turning tops for the Cranberry Festival. A few here, a few there, it's therapeutic and a good skill builder.
